I am sure our readers have taken delight in the sincerity and insight which shine through the editorial comments she has written.—R.C.

DSCD Executive Secretary

It is with regret that we announce the resignation of our executive secretary, Ruth Cunningham. We strongly urged her to continue, but she did not find it possible to do so. At the annual meeting of the Board of Directors of the Department of Supervision and Curriculum Development in Chicago last month, the Board passed a resolution of appreciation for her fine work. The Department during her term of office has not only increased in membership but has greatly expanded its program and services. We are sure the entire membership joins in this expression. The Executive Committee is considering possible appointees and will welcome suggestions from the membership.
