IN APRIL

Studies in Child Development: We present next month articles which concern findings in the area of child development, and their implication in the curriculum.

The comparison of parents' and teachers' opinions of children is evaluated in one article; and another, "Peas in a Pod," deals with the different children existing in the same group, plus the individual differences within each child.

Contributing to this issue are: C. V. Millard, Elizabeth Mechem Fuller, Arthur T. Jersild, Lawrence K. Frank, Charlotte Fehlman, and Caroline Tryon.
