Educational Leadership

ORGANIZING FOR COOPERATIVE CURRICULUM EFFORTS
A Problem of Many Facets - Organization stems from the situation solutions for specific problems

Journal of The Association for Supervision and Curriculum Development, N.E.A.
Mental Health of Children—Some issues dealt with in the next issue of Educational Leadership, in an attempt to foster greater understanding of why children and grown-ups are the way they are, will be: the children in the classroom, the adults in the school, the parents and their contribution to or detraction from a child's moral security, emotional adjustment, and stability in and out of school—now and in later life; the help which is given children, parents, and teachers through mental health clinics; and the use of films in sex instruction.

Authors in the May magazine are Bernice Baxter, Mabel Ross, Daniel Prescott (Madelaine Mershon and Gerthon Morgan, co-authors), Harold G. Shane, Mildred Weigley Wood, Lester Beck (Marcille Harris and Berland Lemon, co-authors), Reymold Jensen and Audrey Arkola, Dorothy Waller, Kathryn Feyereisen, Orin G. Thompson, and C. R. McRae (University of Sydney).