“SUPERVISION SAYS AND SUPERVISION DOES”

- Teachers Look at Supervision
- “Supervisors I Have Known”
- Practice Teachers Can Teach

November 1952

Journal of
The Association for Supervision and Curriculum Development, NEA
Educational Leadership

NOVEMBER 1952
VOLUME X
NUMBER 2

IN DECEMBER
"Creative Teaching"—Articles in the December issue will deal with the following topics:
Creative teaching.
The ability to create.
"Run to the library . . ."
Self-confidence for competence.
Teachers need time to plan.
A symposium on the ASCD booklet, Teachers for Today's Schools.
The physical plant—its design and its influence upon creativeness in the classroom.
Science teaching and creativity.

In This Issue

"Supervision Says and Supervision Does"

Your Vote Counts:
An Editorial......................................................... Maurice R. Ahrens ........................... 74
Supervision's Goal............................................. Alexander Frazier ........................... 75
So Begins—So Ends
the Supervisor's Day........................................... Ethel Thompson ........................... 80
Practice Teachers Can Teach.............................. Robert B. Cody ............................... 85
"Supervisors I Have Known"................................. By a Summer School Class .......................... 90
When and How a Consultant
Can Be Used Most Effectively............................. M. Jay Blaha .................................. 96
Teachers Look at Supervision............................... Matthew J. Whitehead.......................... 101
How a Coordinator Works with Teachers and Principals...................................... Lovelle C. Downing ............................ 107
An Experiment in Training Teachers for Discussion Group Leadership.................... Ronald C. Doll, Paul M. Halverson, Richard E. Lawrence and Elizabeth Lowe........................................ 112

Illustrations are by de Graffenried W. List, NEA

Departments
The Importance of People.................................... Harold Benjamin .............................. 119
Curriculum Bulletins........................................... Eleanor Merritt ............................... 123
The Listening Post............................................. C. Glen Hass .................................... 127
Curriculum Research .......................................... J. Bernard Everett ............................. 129
From Our Readers............................................. Jane Sherrod .................................... 132
Significant Books in Review................................. Ruth Streitz ..................................... 135