to maximize collaboration
and the learning experience!

EQUITY FOR

Every student deserves to be healthy, safe, engaged, supported, and challenged.

Understanding the full impact of inequities is the first step to creating healthy environments, supportive schools, and targeted instruction that helps all students engage in meaningful opportunities to expand their learning and heighten their achievement.

An equitable education ensures that each child is given access to

- Teachers who are empowered as leaders.
- Resources necessary to thrive, especially for students from underserved populations.
- Challenging courses, including in the STEAM fields.
- Collaboration between their school, family, and community.

The ASCD Conference on Teaching Excellence: Pathways to Equity is a “learn-and-do” conference that will help educators

- Experience interactive learning guided by expert practitioners and innovative action planning.
- Connect and share promising practices with professional peers and experience the groundbreaking, teacher-led work that is happening in states, districts, and schools across the country.
- Design concrete action plans, ideas, practices, and tools to respond immediately to the most pressing problems in your classrooms, schools, and districts.

WHO SHOULD ATTEND? Classroom teachers | Teacher leaders | Curriculum directors
Staff developers | Guidance counselors | Social workers | Title I directors | ELA supervisors
Literacy coaches | Principals and assistant principals | State-level administrators | Chief academic officers
Superintendents and assistant superintendents | University and college deans and faculty

ALL

PATHWAYS TO EQUITY

Experience transformative learning through deep dives into these pathways:

SCIENCE, TECHNOLOGY, ENGINEERING, ART, MATH (STEAM)

Educators have seen a renewed focus on the teaching and learning of these subjects because today's careers require specific advanced skills and because certain races and genders are underrepresented in these fields of study and work.

COMMUNITY AND FAMILY ENGAGEMENT

Educators can leverage community and family strengths to support the whole child—every day and all year.

UNDERSERVED POPULATIONS

Children who are English language learners, came to the U.S. under the Deferred Action for Childhood Arrivals (DACA) immigration policy, live in poverty, or have a disability often require special instructional help to reach their potential.

TEACHER LEADERSHIP

Educators become empowered and equipped to use their talents, passions, and interests to positively influence students' learning, transform the profession, and inform change at the school, district, and state levels.
